Overview of Cunningham & Associates, LLC

We are a state of Michigan registered investment advisor.

Our company is a limited liability company, organized in the state of Michigan.

We manage approximately $15 million of your money on a discretionary basis (as of December 31, 2013).

- “Discretionary basis” means that we select the investments and make changes to the investments within your portfolio without first obtaining your approval.

Types of Investments That We Use

We primarily use no-load mutual funds in your portfolio. We may also use Exchange Traded Funds (ETFs) from time-to-time.

Tactical Changes to Your Portfolio

From time-to-time, we may reduce or increase the risk level in your portfolio. We would do this only if we thought the change would be in your best interest in light of the then-current investment environment.

Other Personal Financial Planning Services

We also provide other personal financial planning and analysis services, which include:

- Estate planning.
- Retirement funding analysis services.
- Education funding analysis services.
- Insurance needs analysis services.
- Budgeting and cash management services.

These other personal financial planning services are provided by Patrick Cunningham and Jack Cunningham and are typically provided on an hourly fee basis; though, in some cases, these services are covered by our investment advisory fee.

Jack Cunningham is an attorney, a Certified Public Accountant (CPA), a Personal Financial Specialist (PFS) and a Certified Financial Planner (CFP).

Pat Cunningham is a Certified Public Accountant (CPA) and a Certified Financial Planner (CFP).

Criteria for Attaining and Maintaining a CPA and a CFP License

Certified Public Accountant (CPA)

CPAs are licensed and regulated by their state boards of accountancy. While state laws and regulations vary, the education, experience and testing requirements for licensure as a CPA generally include minimum college education (typically 150 credit hours with at least a baccalaureate degree and a concentration in accounting), minimum experience levels (most states require at least one year of experience providing services that involve the use of accounting, attest, compilation, management advisory, financial advisory, tax or consulting skills, all of which must be achieved under the supervision of or verification by a CPA), and successful passage of the Uniform CPA Examination. In order to maintain a CPA license, states generally require the completion of 40 hours of continuing professional education (CPE) each year (or 80 hours over a two year period or 120 hours over a three year period).

- Additionally, all American Institute of Certified Public Accountants (AICPA) members are required to follow a rigorous Code of Professional Conduct which requires that they act with integrity, objectivity, due care, competence, fully disclose any conflicts of interest (and obtain client consent if a conflict exists), maintain client confidentiality, disclose to the client any commission or referral fees, and serve the public interest when providing financial services. The vast majority of state boards of accountancy have adopted the AICPA's Code of Professional Conduct within their state accountancy laws or have created their own.

Certified Financial Planner (CFP)

The following steps are required to earn the CFP designation:

1: Complete the Education Requirement

Before applying for the CFP® Certification Examination, you need to complete the education requirements set by CFP Board. You can fulfill the education requirement through one of three paths:

- Complete a CFP Board-Registered Education Program.
- Apply for Challenge Status.

Certain degrees and professional credentials fulfill the educational requirement and allow you to sit for the CFP® Certification Examination.

Academic degrees and credentials that fulfill the educational requirements include:

- Certified Public Accountant (CPA) - inactive license acceptable.
- Licensed attorney - inactive license acceptable.
- Chartered Financial Analyst® (CFA®).
- Doctor of Business Administration.
- Chartered Financial Consultant (ChFC).
- Ph.D. in business or economics.
- Chartered Life Underwriter (CLU).
- Request a Transcript Review.
Certain industry credentials recognized by CFP Board, or the successful completion of upper-division level college courses, may satisfy some or all of the education requirements set by CFP Board.

Note: As of January 2007, a bachelor's degree, in any field of study or program, is required to obtain CFP® certification.

2: Pass the CFP® Certification Examination

The CFP® Certification Examination tests your ability to apply your financial planning knowledge to client situations. The 10-hour exam is divided into three separate sessions. Because of the integrated nature of financial planning, however, each session may cover all topic areas. All questions are multiple choice, including those questions related to case problems.

3: Meet the Experience Requirement

At least three years of qualifying full-time work experience are required for certification. Qualifying experience includes work that can be categorized into one of the six primary elements of the personal financial planning process. Experience can be gained in a number of ways including:

- The delivery of all, or of any portion, of the personal financial planning process to a client.
- The direct support or supervision of individuals who deliver all, or any portion, of the personal financial planning process to a client.
- Teaching all, or any portion, of the personal financial planning process.

4: Adhere to the Code of Ethics and Professional Responsibility and Pass a Background Check

After you have met the education, examination, and work experience requirements, you must disclose past or pending litigation or agency proceedings and agree to abide by CFP Board's Code of Ethics and Professional Responsibility and Financial Planning Practice Standards. A background check will also be conducted.

5: Pay Certification Fees

6: Receive Authorization to use the CFP and Certified Financial Planner marks.

Item 5 Fees and Compensation

Overview of Fees and Expenses.

You will incur the following fees and expenses:

- Recurring portfolio management fees for our investment advisory services.
- Portfolio development and set-up fees.
- Mutual fund management fees and expenses.
- Charles Schwab & Company brokerage account transaction fees.
- (If we use AssetMark for your portfolio) Portfolio Strategist and custody fees.
- Other personal financial planning hourly fees.

Recurring Portfolio Management Fees

Recurring portfolio management fees are charged for the management of your investment portfolio.

Recurring portfolio management fees are computed by multiplying a fee percentage times the trailing average value of your portfolio. We compute this average by using month-end values.

- For example, if we were computing your fee for the months of October, November and December we would:
 - Add the month-end values of your portfolio as of September 30, October 31, November 30 and December 31,
 - Divide the sum of these 4 month month-end values by 4, to arrive at an average value of your portfolio for these three months.
 - Multiply the agreed upon fee percentage times this average value to compute your annualized fee.
 - Multiply this result by a fraction corresponding to the fraction of the year that is being billed for.

The following annual fee percentages apply in computing your recurring portfolio management fee:

- 2.50% on the first $100,000 of assets managed.
- 1.00% on the next $400,000.
- (Once the portfolio exceeds $400,000, an annual credit of $875 will be given.)
- 0.60% on the next $500,000.
- 0.50% on the next $2,000,000.
- Rate negotiable on portfolio additions exceeding $3,000,000.

Generally, one-fourth (1/4) of the recurring portfolio management fee is computed, billed and payable quarterly (using one-quarter of the annual fee percentages described above to compute this fee).

- For example, if the average value of your portfolio for the last 3 months is $100,000, we would compute your fee by multiplying that amount by 2.50%, then dividing that result by 4 to arrive at your quarterly fee amount.

For some clients, we compute our fees based on a 6-month trailing average. This would be the case for clients who started with us before our quarterly billing policy was put in place.

For some clients, the portfolio management fee percentages are lower than the amounts described above. This would be the case for our clients who started with us before our portfolio management fees were raised to the amounts described above.

Item 5 Fees and Compensation, continued

How You Pay the Recurring Portfolio Management Fees

In most cases, our recurring portfolio management fee is deducted directly from your account. After we compute the fee as described above, we will:

- Provide an invoice to you, which describes the computation of the invoice amount.
- At the same time, submit a copy of that invoice to Charles Schwab & Company.
- After one week, Charles Schwab & Company will transfer the fee amount from your account to our account.
- This gives you a full week to review the invoice and contact us if you dispute the amount of the fee.

You can also elect to pay the fee directly and not have the fee deducted from your account.

If we use AssetMark for your portfolio, the fees will be billed quarterly IN ADVANCE (based on your most recent quarter-end portfolio value) and will be deducted directly from your account. You will receive a Portfolio Billing Invoice from AssetMark illustrating the computation of the AssetMark fees and our advisory fees. You will also receive a quarterly report from AssetMark that delineates the fees that were deducted from your account.

Portfolio Development Fee

We charge you a portfolio development fee of $500. This fee is payable before we begin the process of developing your portfolio.

In some cases, we charge more than $500 to develop your portfolio. We would do this only if your particular situation is quite complicated. Before charging this extra fee, we would first discuss this with you and provide you with an estimate of the amount of this extra fee and obtain your approval before we began the process of setting up your portfolio.

At your request, we will refund this portfolio development fee to you if:

- You have paid it, and
- We have not started the portfolio development and account set-up process.

Mutual Fund Fees

The mutual funds that will be held in your account also charge fees and incur expenses. These fees and expenses correspond to the management of the fund and to the expenses related to operating the fund.

- These fees are not paid to us and we receive no benefit from these fees.
- These fees are not paid by you directly. Instead, they are paid by the mutual fund to the mutual fund management company.

When we evaluate the merits of a mutual fund investment, we always consider the amount of fees and costs that the mutual fund company charges and incurs.

Item 5 Fees and Compensation, continued

Brokerage Firm Fees

Your investments will be held in an account with Charles Schwab & Company.

- Charles Schwab & Company will charge a transaction fee when we buy certain mutual funds on your behalf.
- Charles Schwab & Company will also charge a transaction fee when we sell certain mutual funds in your portfolio.
- These fees are paid to Charles Schwab & Company; they are not paid to us.
- We do not benefit from these fees.
- We always consider these fees before we make a buy or sell decision on your behalf.
- If we decide to buy or sell a mutual fund that will result in you being charged transaction fees, we make this decision only after we have determined that making the buy or the sell is in your overall long-term best interest.

Other Services

As described above, our clients also receive services from Cunningham & Associates Advisory Services, PLLC. These services include tax preparation and planning services, business consulting services and accounting services. As a client of Cunningham & Associates, LLC, you will be afforded access to all of the services that are available from both companies.

The services that are provided by Cunningham & Associates Advisory Services, PLLC are charged for on an hourly basis.

- The hourly rates range from $80 per hour to $300 per hour.
- The higher hourly rates are charged by the more knowledgeable and experienced practitioners.

Cunningham & Associates Advisory Services, PLLC will submit a bill for any services rendered describing:

- The services that were rendered.
- The fees corresponding to each service rendered.

For the recurring-type services provided by Cunningham & Associates Advisory Services, PLLC, we will typically provide the services and bill you for such services without first disclosing to you the likely amount of the fee for these services.

For the less-recurring type services, we will typically discuss the projected fee with you before we begin.

Item 6 Performance-based Fees and Side-by-Side Management

This item is not applicable.

Item 7 Types of Clients

Our clients include the following:

- Individuals.
- Trusts.
- Individual participants in profit sharing and 401(k) plans.
- Family limited liability companies.

Our investment advisory service is generally best suited for you if you have at least $250,000 of assets for us to manage.

- In some cases, we will begin a portfolio management engagement if you have less than $250,000.
- This decision is made on a case-by-case basis and depends on the circumstances.

Item 8 Methods of Analysis, Investment Strategies and Risk of Loss

Investment Strategies

As described in Item 4, your investment portfolio is developed after we have a clear understanding of:

- Your investment risk profile.
- Your long-term investment growth needs.
- Your short and long-term portfolio withdrawal needs.

Based on your specific profile, we will develop an investment portfolio that attempts to best blend your risk profile, growth needs and cash needs.

We use no-load mutual funds as the investments of choice in your portfolio.

- We rely on various outside resources regarding the merits of each mutual fund investment choice.
- Some of the investment choices will be bond mutual funds.
 - Bond mutual funds are used in the portfolio to provide some income.
 - Bond funds are also used to reduce the overall portfolio's expected volatility.
 - A more conservative portfolio will have more bond funds than a more aggressive portfolio.
- We also may incorporate stock mutual funds into your portfolio.
 - Stock mutual funds provide greater opportunity for long-term growth.
 - Stock mutual funds have the potential to decline more than bond mutual funds on a temporary basis.
 - Consequently, we view stock mutual funds as riskier than bond mutual funds.
 - A more aggressive portfolio will have more invested in stock mutual funds than will a more conservative portfolio.
- A portion of your investment portfolio may be invested in "asset allocation funds."
 - "Asset allocation funds" are mutual funds that contain a wide range of investment types.
 - The manager of the "asset allocation fund" will decide how much of the fund should be invested in each of the different investment choices that are available.
 - The manager will make these choices based on his/her assessment of:
 - The relative merits of the various investment choices.
 - The relative risks associated with the various investment choices.
 - The overall global investment environment.
 - The overall global economic environment.

As described above, we use mutual fund investments to develop and manage your portfolio.

- We will continue to monitor:
 - The merits of each individual investment mutual fund holding.
 - The merits of all of the mutual funds in concert in terms of achieving your objectives.
 - The merits of all of the mutual funds in concert in terms of staying consistent with your investment profile.

Risks

Bond mutual fund investments will periodically decline in value for temporary periods of time.

Item 8 Methods of Analysis, Investment Strategies and Risk of Loss, continued

- The two main risks related to fixed-income (i.e., bond mutual funds) investing are interest rate risk and credit risk. Typically, when interest rates rise, there is a corresponding decline in the market value of bonds. Credit risk refers to the possibility that the issuer of the bond will not be able to make principal and interest payments.
- The bond mutual fund manager may also invest in non-investment-grade debt securities (those rated below Baa by Moody's Investors Service, Inc., or below BBB by Standard & Poor's). These securities, commonly referred to as "junk bonds," generally involve greater volatility of price and risks to principal and income than securities in higher rating categories.

Stock mutual fund investments will periodically decline in value and could decline significantly for temporary periods of time.

Asset allocation funds will periodically decline in value and could experience significant temporary declines from time-to-time.

Bond mutual fund investments are generally less risky than equity mutual fund investments.

Asset allocation mutual fund investments are generally less risky than equity fund investments.

Investing in bond mutual funds, stock mutual funds and asset allocation mutual funds involves assuming varying levels of risk. As such, you should be prepared for the fact that your investments will decline in value periodically for temporary periods.

International investing involves risks, including risks related to foreign currency, limited liquidity, less government regulation and the possibility of substantial volatility due to adverse political, economic or other developments.

In order for you to benefit from the income and growth potential associated with mutual fund investments, it is necessary for you to be prepared to stay invested during these periods of temporary decline.

Item 9 Disciplinary Information

There are no disciplinary or legal events to report.

Item 10 Other Financial Industry Activities and Affiliations

We also share office space with Cunningham & Cunningham, a sole proprietorship which provides insurance and estate planning services and products to its clients. The sole proprietor is Michael W. Cunningham, brother of both Jack and Pat Cunningham.

- While no formal business arrangement exists between us and Cunningham & Cunningham, the sole proprietorship of Cunningham & Cunningham does provide insurance services to some of our clients.
- And we perform tax and financial consulting services for some of the clients of Cunningham & Cunningham.
- Our affiliated company, Cunningham & Associates Advisory Services, PLLC periodically pays a consulting fee to Cunningham & Cunningham in exchange for services rendered.

- Because we recognize the existence of this conflict of interest, we will point this out to you in the event that you are contemplating the purchase of any financial product from Cunningham & Cunningham.

Item 11 Code of Ethics, Participation or Interest in Client Transactions and Personal Trading

Code of Ethics

We have a Code of Ethics that states that we have a duty to act solely in your best interest.

- As a fiduciary, Cunningham & Associates, LLC has a duty of utmost good faith to act solely in the best interests of each of our clients. Our clients entrust us with their funds, which in turn places a high standard on our conduct and integrity. Our fiduciary duty compels all employees to act with the utmost integrity in all of our dealings. This fiduciary duty is the core principle underlying this Code of Ethics and Personal Trading Policy, and represents the expected basis of all of our dealings with our clients.

Personal Trading Restrictions

At present, we use only no-load mutual funds and exchange traded funds (ETF's) in your accounts. As a result, any personal trading within our employees' accounts will have no negative impact on the value of the mutual funds held in your accounts.

To ensure that there is no conflict of interest with a security other than a mutual fund that may be within your account, we require that all employees who are contemplating a trade first consult with our Chief Compliance Officer before conducting his/her personal trade.

Item 12 Brokerage Practices

Brokerage Accounts Held at Charles Schwab & Company

Your investment assets will be held in a brokerage account or accounts with the Schwab Institutional Division of Charles Schwab & Company, Inc. (Schwab).

- Schwab is a registered broker dealer and a member of the SIPC.
- Schwab will maintain custody of your assets and will execute the trades in your accounts.
 - We decide what trades to make in your accounts; Schwab only executes these trades based on our instructions.

We are independently owned and operated and non-affiliated with Schwab. Schwab does provide us with access to its institutional trading and custody services, which are typically not available to Schwab retail investors.

- These services generally are available to independent investment advisors such as us on an unsolicited basis at no charge as long as we maintain at least $10 million of our clients' assets in Schwab accounts.
- Schwab's services include brokerage services, custody services, research services and access to mutual funds and other investments that are otherwise generally available only to institutional investors.

Schwab generally does not charge separately for holding your assets but, rather, is compensated through transaction fees and commissions for securities that are bought or sold in their accounts.

Schwab makes available to us other products and services that benefit us, but may not benefit you.

- Some of these other products and services assist us in managing and administering your accounts.
 - These include providing us with software and other technology that allow us access to your account data and allows us to officially execute trades on your behalf.
 - They provide research and pricing information and other market data.
 - They also facilitate the payment of our fees directly from your accounts.

Schwab also provides other services that help us better manage your accounts and our business. These services may include:

- Consulting.
- Publications and conferences on practice management.
- Information technology.
- Regulatory compliance.
- Marketing information.

Our requirement that you maintain your assets in accounts at Schwab is based in part on the benefit to us of the availability of some of the foregoing products and services.

- We recognize that Schwab may not be the lowest cost provider of custody and brokerage services.
- We view Schwab as a reasonable provider of custody and brokerage services.
- We view Schwab's cost structure as being not excessive.

We recognize that our requirement for you to use a Schwab brokerage account may create a potential conflict of interest.

Item 13 Review of Accounts

Review of Accounts

On a near-daily basis, Pat Cunningham reviews the increase or decrease in the value of the mutual funds held in your account.

On a weekly basis, Pat Cunningham will compare the gain or loss in the mutual funds held in your account against other comparable mutual funds.

On a monthly basis, we prepare and Pat Cunningham reviews an internal report of your portfolio gains or losses for the following periods:

- The previous month.
- The year-to-date period.
- The trailing 12-month period.
- The trailing 3-year period.
- The period since inception until the most recent month-end date.

On a monthly basis, Pat Cunningham will review your account positions to determine:

- If your liquidity needs are adequately maintained.
- If your portfolio composition results in a risk profile that continues to make sense for you.
- If the investment portfolio overall is consistent with your long-term liquidity needs and growth needs.

Pat Cunningham will also periodically review your account in light of the current global investment environment.

On an annual basis, we will provide a package of reports that include the following:

- Portfolio performance review (which reflects your portfolio's investment results for various trailing periods).
- Portfolio position analysis (which describe your then-current portfolio positions and overall gain or loss corresponding to each position).
- "Transaction ledger" (which lists all of the transactions that occurred in your account(s) during the previous six months).

On at least an annual basis (if you have at least $250,000 in the accounts that we are managing), Pat Cunningham will review your file to determine what, if any, personal financial planning and/or analysis procedures should be performed or addressed with you.

On at least an annual basis (if you have at least $250,000 in the accounts that we are managing), Pat will contact you to set up a meeting to discuss your investment portfolio and:

- To update our understanding of your short and long-term liquidity needs.
- To update our understanding of any changes in your personal financial situation.
- To address any questions you have.
- To discuss personal financial planning and/or analysis that should be performed, if any.

Each month you will receive a brokerage account statement(s) from Schwab. This statement(s) will delineate:

- Your investment holdings.

Item 13 Review of Accounts, continued

- Transactions and activity within your account(s) during the month.
- A summary of transactions occurring within your account(s) during the month and the year-to-date period.

Item 14 Client Referrals and Other Compensation

This item is not applicable.

Item 15 Custody

This item is not applicable.

Item 16 Investment Discretion

Discretionary Authority over your Account

When we establish an investment advisory engagement with you, we will ask you to initial a Power of Attorney.

- This Power of Attorney will give us authority to buy and/or sell investment securities in your account without first requiring your authorization to do so.

Item 17 Voting Client Securities

Voting Client Securities

We do not assume authority to vote securities on your behalf.

From time-to-time, you will receive proxies from Schwab on behalf of the investment securities in your portfolio.

- It will be your responsibility to vote via use of these proxies.
- You can choose to not vote and you can choose to not return these proxies.
- You can contact us with any questions you may have regarding a particular solicitation you receive.

Item 18 Financial Information

This item is not applicable.

Item 19 Requirements for State-Registered Advisors

Pat Cunningham is solely responsible for providing investment advisory services on your behalf.

Pat and Jack also provide tax preparation and planning services through Cunningham & Associates Advisory Services, PLLC.

- During the period February 1st through April 15th, a significant portion of Pat and Jack’s work schedule is dedicated to providing tax preparation services.
 - However, during this time period, Pat still provides all of the same portfolio review procedures that are described in Item 13 “Review of Accounts” with the exception of the semi-annual review process and annual meetings, which are conducted either before February 1st or after April 15th.
- During the remainder of the year, Pat Cunningham’s time is allocated primarily towards investment advisory and other personal financial planning services, while still performing other tax and business consulting services on behalf of Cunningham & Associates Advisory Services, PLLC
